

2018 Annika Invitational Australasia
Royal Wellington Golf Club
14-16 December

New Zealand Golf and the Annika Foundation would like to invite you to compete in the 2018 Annika Invitational to be played at the Royal Wellington Golf Club from Friday 14- Sunday 16 December, 2018.

The Annika Invitational Australasia is a new event, hosted by Annika Sorenstam and run by New Zealand Golf, that will have the best junior female golfers from New Zealand, Australian and the Asia Region competing over 54 holes of stroke play.

The winner of this event will receive an invite to play in the New Zealand Women's Open Championship and the top three will receive an Invitation to play in the Annika Invitational USA.

New Zealand Golf has put together an accommodation package for the tournament which has been subsidised by the Annika Foundation. This package is $700.00 and includes five room nights at the James Cook Hotel Grand Chancellor, including breakfast, transfers to and from Wellington airport and the hotel, transfers to and from Royal Wellington Golf Course each day, lunch at the club and complementary range balls, water & snacks on course. This accommodation will be sharing with a parent / caregiver or another player.

There is also an entry only option which is $200.00 and doesn't include accommodation or transport but does include lunch at course each day, complementary range balls, water & snacks on course. It will be the players and caregivers responsibility to get themselves to and from the course each day if they don't choose the accommodation package.

In addition to the golf tournament there will be an Am-Am tournament on Thursday that all players will be required to play in followed by a welcome function. Annika Sorenstam will also host a clinic that all players are required to attend on Friday after the completion of the first round.
